

Always in the Right Gear with Adia

Adia put the pedal to the metal at this year's Tour de Suisse as we supported the catering team for the second year in a row. Top cyclists weren't the only ones working full steam with Adia workers making sure all VIP guests were well-fueled and ready for a spectacular event in the middle of a beautiful Swiss Summer.

Mirjam Casanova, Wolke 7 Events

«The great thing about working with Adia is that you can rely on them 100%. They make everything possible so that the need for temporary staff is completely covered when planning for a big event – remote locations and short operating times posed no problems.»
